polycarboxylate superplasticizer for mortar

Brief

polycarboxylate superplasticizer for mortar is an admixture added in the concrete mixing process, which can obviously reduce or greatly reduce the concrete mixing water, improve the flow of concrete, and improve the strength of concrete.

It has been proved by practice that the dosage of cement can be greatly reduced and the compactness of concrete can be improved if the concrete is mixed with water-reducing agent and the strength is not increased again.

Therefore, polycarboxylate superplasticizer for mortar is an indispensable addition material in commercial concrete.

Application

polycarboxylate superplasticizer for mortar is suitable for self-leveling mortar, grouting materials, grouting materials, early-strength mortar, high-strength mortar, repair mortar, waterproof mortar, etc., but also can be used in high-performance concrete, high-strength concrete, self-compacting concrete, etc.
